

Please join me to celebrate the publication of Getting Naked for Money: An Accidental Travel Writer Reveals All

When:

Wednesday, November 2, 5 to 7pm

Where:

The Carriage House, Janos Wilder's exciting new cooking school/dim sum venue/events space, 125 S. Arizona Avenue, tel. 520-615-6100 – just across the parking lot from his Downtown Kitchen + Cocktails.

What, precisely:

Getting Naked for Money is the story of a Brooklyn-born poetry Ph.D. who moves west and finds her mojo. See: www.ediejarolim.com/books/getting-naked-for-money/

Although the memoir highlights my days as a guidebook editor in New York and London and as a Tucson-based freelancer who travels the world, for this occasion I will be reading excerpts from my food writing journey – including what it's like to dine in the nude.

There will be a special theme food surprise from aka, the new deli and bakery at the Mercado, chips and dips, wine and soft drinks...and, of course, books to buy.
